Her-story in SSL—March is Women's History Month

Mayor Cherie Wood

In 1992, I began working for the City of South Salt Lake in the utility billing office. I didn't hesitate to apply for the job as I had seen a little bit about city government through one of my friends who was a mayor's kid. I was a lucky exception to the rule as at that time, most city employees were male, and very few women were found in any elected office or as department heads. Even as I decided to run for mayor, 17 years later, little had changed in the gender or ethnic makeup of city employees and leadership. It has been so rewarding to have more females and people of color run for office (and win!) and bring more diversity into the ranks of local leaders, employees and department directors. Our city has changed significantly since then—growing and becoming more and more diverse.

Equity and inclusion have become city priorities, and are the foundation of our Promise SSL department. I am particularly proud of the number of women who have joined our city leadership, and committed to making a better city for ALL. Even the smallest steps and decisions are shaping a new future, which I hope will become a history the next generation can be proud of.

SSL has one of the highest representations of elected women in the state. At present, South Salt Lake has a seven-member City Council, five of whom are women. The Mayor's Cabinet is now a 50/50 split, up from just one female member a decade ago. Women are known for wearing all the hats at once, often balancing their work as business leaders, healthcare workers, educators, volunteers and caretakers while being mothers, grandmothers and single heads of households. Women can bring a great breadth of knowledge and a depth of compassion that I believe can truly make a difference.

For the month of March (and every month), honor our local women with recognition, efforts to better support them, and by providing for them a safe platform and a voice in our community.

We've been honoring local women when naming new parks and schools. It is an honor to remember Hser Ner Moo with the Promise Park along the S-Line at 500 East, Ida and Laurie with Bickley Park just north of the Columbus Center, and Olene Walker with the new Elementary School in Riverfront. We continue to tell the story that our city values every single person who resides and visits.

Google Fiber is Coming to SSL—YES!

At long last, we can now announce that the City has entered into an agreement with Google Fiber to build out their fiber network in SSL.

"Digital equity and inclusion are imperative for resident success. Google Fiber creates new options for broadband access and connectivity. Google Fiber's expansion into SSL will assist us in addressing the digital divide."

CITY COUNCIL CORNER

Pandemic Building Strength

By L. Shane Siwik—District 5

For many of us, COVID 19 brought about changes to our lives that a year ago would have seemed unlikely. Social distancing, mask mandates and frequent hand sanitizing were not commonplace. Now, they seem to be our new daily habits.

Many have lost their lives. Others had serious reactions that required hospitalization. Most of us simply were inconvenienced. Yet despite the conditions each had to go through, recovery is happening. Vaccines are being distributed; businesses are more fully reopening; schools are more functional and best of all, the daily cases are decreasing.

The COVID pandemic has challenged us as a society. It has come at a great and ultimate cost for many. But it has not succeeded in defeating us as a community, as a nation or as humanity. We continue to move forward, looking towards the future with optimism.

Soon we will once again appreciate full smiles in strangers now hidden by masks. One day, this pandemic will be over. One day we will once again feel comfortable in gatherings. We will attend weddings and funerals of loved ones and go to more social functions in person. One day Zoom meetings will diminish and be replaced by in person interaction.

The human spirit is strong and allows us to persevere. But it also allows us to find hope. One day, despite all of our losses, we will say, "We beat this pandemic. It did not beat us."

Note: Opinions expressed here may not be representative of all Members of the City Council.

SLOW DOWN SSL

"Speeding and reckless driving are an unfortunate and ongoing issue in our neighborhoods. In many areas around town, traffic is steadily increasing, drivers don't always heed speed trailers, and human error is a factor. While the City Council is taking on traffic studies to tackle trouble spots, please be mindful when driving, follow the rules, slow down, avoid distractions, don't text or drive under the influence. The responsibility falls on all of us to better ensure safer streets and neighborhoods."

—Mayor Cherie Wood

Cleaner Air Inside and Out

We're all familiar with that gray haze or inversion that we get annually in SLC. So what can we do about it? There are a few easy steps we can all take to reduce our emissions and improve our air quality.

- Take fewer single-passenger vehicle trips.
- Invest in the future with an electric vehicle or bike.
- Stop burning wood to improve your indoor air quality.

Public Safety

She's Got the Right Stuff

Message from SSL Police Chief Jack Carruth

The SSLPD recognizes achievements of women across national, cultural, economic, ethnic or political spheres. Our department is fortunate to have some amazing women in the field and in office supporting the daily operations of the department and our community. Here's a call out to five outstanding female officers.

SERGEANT WINTERS

Starting as a Patrol Officer with the University of Utah, Sergeant Winters now has over two decades of Law Enforcement experience, including 23 years with SSL. She has served in SSL as: Patrol Officer, Community Resource Officer, Bike Patrol, Crime Scene Technician, Fire/Arson Investigator, Reserve Officer Supervisor, K9 Handler, Detective, Motor Officer, Field Training Officer, and currently Patrol Sergeant.

Her professional certifications include CIT Officer, Incident Command Systems, Firefighter I and II, Hazmat Operations and Awareness. Throughout her career, she has received the Chief's Award, Detective Division Unit Citation, and various commendations. Off duty, she enjoys traveling by motorcycle and spending time with her horse Bailey.

OFFICER GENCARELLA

Officer Gencarella has worked for South Salt Lake since 2012. Her first three years were working in patrol. She transferred to the Community Resource Unit in 2015, and worked with the DARE and GREAT summer camp programs for both elementary and middle school students. In 2018, she transferred to the Detective

Division, and as an Internet Crimes Against Child Affiliate is assigned to work with youth involved sex crimes.

OFFICER JOHNSON

Officer Johnson started her career in law enforcement in 2014 with Unified Police dispatch. In 2017, Officer Johnson was hired with the Salt County Sheriff's Office as a deputy for their Public Safety Bureau and worked with Youth Services. She was awarded the unit citation award for her dedicated work. She joined SSL in 2018 as a patrol officer. Officer Johnson continues to take every opportunity to expand her knowledge to better serve those in our community.

OFFICER WARNER

Officer Warner has been in law enforcement for 15 years. She serves as the role of a crisis negotiator with the combined Unified Police Department S.W.A.T team and the Street Crimes Unit. Because of her continual commitment to excellence, Officer Warner received the Chief of Police Star award in 2017.

OFFICER SNOW

Officer Snow attended the police academy in 2016 at age 37 after being a stay at home mom for 15 years to follow her lifelong dream of becoming a police officer. She was hired by Sandy PD after obtaining her Special Function Officer Certification, working as a bailiff and completing her Law Enforcement Officer certification. In April of 2020 she joined the SSLPD and has loved every minute of protecting and serving SSL.

SSL Fire Stations Highlight Female Firefighters

Message from Fire Chief Terry Addison

Firefighting as an industry has been male-dominated. Women as firefighters, while only making up a small percentage, have been in rank for almost 200 years of the fire service in the U.S. We know that gender and racial diversity greatly improves organizations and helps address the needs of the public better. With a small but growing number, I am proud to state that we currently have nine female firefighters. The national average is between 4-5% and the SSLFD is slightly above this at 14%. Two of our nine female firefighters currently serve as Captains in combat officer roles.

Three senior female members of our team have over 42 years of experience in our department. In my opinion, as women firefighters their strength is in mentoring co-workers. Other strong attributes they bring to the SSLFD are compassion, physical stamina and strength, detailed medical and technical fire and rescue knowledge. I have witnessed that our female firefighters have enormous intellectual, social and emotional skills that are paramount in delivering the highest possible care to our community. While it's no secret the firefighting profession has been seen as one dominated by physical strength, the truth is women meet these physical challenges just as well. Being a firefighter goes beyond just brute strength, it requires a complex mix of skills and traits and the women of South Salt Lake Fire are a testament to the breaking of this glass ceiling. Bravo to the women of the South Salt Lake Fire Department!

SSL City Values

"The reason I work for the City is because of the Mayor and her vision," says Sharen Hauri, Urban Design Director. While first working with the city on the conversion of Woodrow Wilson Elementary to Central Park, she saw that our city was run so differently and had so much heart. She saw what a "mom as mayor" could do, putting kids, seniors, and people from all walks of life first. Every act, from PAL to Promise, to new parks and community centers puts the city's values into action, and it continues to be the core of our work every day.

Not Just For Kids—How Promise Serves Our Community

How did afterschool programs become such an important part of our community? Mayor Cherie Wood explains, "As a single parent, I was among a crowd of parents who work and were in need of a helping hand in raising children that are prepared for the future." The Promise SSL programs were created to support our youth and their families, who often face a myriad of challenges.

"So many need homework help, a meal, are English Language Learners (ELL), refugees or New Americans, or in need of a safe spot to land between home and school. The growth and success of this program and its many councils is largely credited to the all-women Promise leadership team, Director, Kelli Meranda, and Deputy Directors, Domoina Kendell, Bonnie Owens, Brandis Stockman. Promise continues to bring valuable opportunities and resources to our youth and their families in turn strengthening our community."

—Mayor Cherie Wood

Promise at the Central Park Community Center

In January, the Central Park Community Center (CPCC) with the help of The Movement Center kicked off its first youth cheer clinic and a great addition to the Center's regular programming throughout the week. Participating youth are able to learn the basics of cheerleading and movement and, in under two hours, were able to fully execute a cheer routine! Quite impressive for a group of beginners.

CPCC and Promise SSL are grateful for the experience and look forward to being able to host additional clinics. Future cheer clinics will expand and introduce tumbling and how to throw into the mix.

Serving youth from K to 12th grade, to learn more about Central Park's afterschool programming or cheer clinic, contact Patrick Holman-Hart at pholman@ssl.com.

Promise at Granite Park Jr High

The GPJH program continues to offer a variety of fun and engaging afterschool activities while adapting to the challenges brought on by the pandemic. Cross country has been added to help students fill their athletic needs while allowing for proper social distancing. A Lego robotics club has been established to utilize Mindstorm kits provided by 4-H, allowing students to invent programs. The art club has expanded offerings to include canvas painting, and the board games club continues to give students the chance to challenge staff and youth in a variety of games, including chess.

Granite Park teacher partners are also providing enrichment activities via the popular cooking club and camera techniques with the specialized film club. On Fridays, program staff conduct virtual programs, providing fun via educational Kahoots, Skribbl.io drawing challenges, Geoguessr, Freerice.com trivia, and more!

We hope to expand offerings based on student interests, such as a magic club, piano lessons, Dungeons and Dragons, virtual/augmented reality, and competitive gaming. GPJH students can join the fun by contacting Joseph Genda at jgenda@ssl.com.
